In the course of the past year, the members of the University's faculties were once again quite active in the area of research and scholarship. In fact, they made hundreds of presentations at scholarly conferences and symposia and published hundreds of articles and reviews in the journals of their disciplines. At this time, however, I would like merely to provide you with a list of the books that the members of the University's faculties have published and the grants that they have won in the course of the past year. I know that all the members of the Fordham family will join me in congratulating our colleagues on all that they have accomplished in the course of the past academic year, and in thanking them for raising the University's academic profiles with their scholarly endeavors.
